Support Sought for Humane Society

To the Editor:

Many readers are familiar with the Bosler Humane Society in Barre, Mass. Elaine Bosler has devoted her life to the rescue and care of unwanted dogs and cats. She now shelters over 300 animals. But disaster has struck. Because of an accountant's error, she owes the I.R.S. $15,000!

Donations have fallen off due to the depressed state of Massachusetts' economy, so she is also $7,000 behind for feed and fuel. She has had to let two employees go and do their work herself.

Needless to say, she needs help - money, from one dollar up, stamps, articles (blankets, towels, kitty litter, liners and Gains products starred price markers), donations in memory or honor of a beloved pet or person, or antiques for an upcoming auction.

People, organizations and kids who want to help can raise money by collecting cans or with yard sales, etc. Think of the fate of these dogs and cats, puppies and kittens if the bills are not paid. Go without something to make a donation. You will be glad you did.

The address is: Bosler Humane Society, P.O. Box 520, Barre, MA 01005. Phone 882-3136.

Offers Apology

To the Editor

Having the responsibility of coordinating the Memorial Day parade as the Veteran's Agent for Millbury, I wish to extend my apologies to the residents of Millbury for allowing the ceremony at the West Millbury cemetery to be concluded without taps. Taps were scheduled, however, lack of communications caused confusion.

Not only were the residents of Millbury astonished, but so were the Selectmen, members of the VFW and American Legion as well as myself. Having spent 26 years on active duty with the Marine Corps, I have participated in many Memorial Day services, parades and funerals. I know the significance of taps and can only offer my apologies for not assuring they were performed.

It was not my intention to diminish the service at West Millbury cemetery and can assure the residents that this incident will remain with me as a reminder when planning future Memorial Day functions.

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Fireworks Continue Over Fireworks

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Warrants were signed as Chairman Jude Cristo called the May 29 Selectmen's Meeting to order. Present were board members Roland Lachance, Gerald Bleau and Bernard Plante.

Dirt Bikes

Chase reported that a problem has arisen with dirt bikes using the newly-capped landfill. He suggested placing good size boulders to block the access areas and posting the perimeter.

Use of Town Counsel

Chase said he followed up on a matter pertaining to the board's denial of a request for use of Town Counsel by the Planning Board in a matter related to the granting of a variance by the ZBA for property on Riverlin Street. He said the Planning Board may use funds from their "other expenses" account for legal advice since the selectmen denied their request.

Cristo said the board denied the request because it could set a precedent to have one board overrule another in a legal challenge. He also said he had received a call from Attorney Larry Brodeur who asked about the issue and said he would be representing the Planning Board.

Appointments

Cristo raised the question of the appointment of Carl Feraco as Assistant Building Inspector. He said he thought the appointment was held up for further discussion since Feraco lives in Oxford. "I thought we hadn't made it (the appointment)," Cristo said.

According to Chase, a letter has already been sent to Feraco advising him of his appointment.

Lachance then read a letter from Millbury resident Graham Cleveland indicating his interest in the position. Cleveland said he has credentials as a superintendent and foreman in the construction trade.

Cristo asked his colleagues what they wanted to do.

Lachance said that past practice usually dictated that the appointment be given to a resident.

On a motion by Bleau, the board voted 4-0 to notify Feraco of the board's preference. On a motion by Lachance, the board voted unanimously to advertise the position in the newspaper.

Two letters were received for openings on the Zoning Board of Appeals. One indicated the ZBA's support for the appointment of alternate Cheryl Hennigan to the position vacated by the resignation of Holly Oliveri.

Another interested applicant is Edward Joubert of Wales Street. Mention was made of an anticipated third letter of interest.

The board decided to wait for the third letter and interview all three candidates for the full time position and the two alternate openings.

No appointments were made to the Public Works Council or the DPW Study Committee since the board is awaiting feedback on whether both are needed.

Phone System

Stokowski asked the board for a clarification on whether or not state law says that purchases by municipalities must be made through a purchasing agent. He expalined that the phone system he was requesting was unique in that it is not compatible with any other equipment.

The equipment being requested is for a dual logger reporter. Stokowski said the system is voice activated and people calling in to the police department will be advised that they are being taped. A warning beep also is heard to alert the caller. Cristo suggested that other companies be checked to see if they have compatible equipment.

Boat Ramp

Stokowski then reviewed the issue of control and parking at the access boat ramp at Lake Singletary. He said he received a letter from an individual in the area concerning a possible parking area on private property with a fee being charged.

The question of a permit was raised by the letter writer. It was also noted that zoning laws may require that the parking lot be paved.

Gould Street resident Richard Dwinell asked why the field next to the fire station couldn't be used for parking. Cristo said that the Fire Chief closed off that area to ensure that fire department personnel have a place to park when answering a fire call.

Dwinell said it was possible to limit the horsepower and the number of boats on the lake in the interest of public safety. He suggested that the board check that out with Walter Bickford of the Division of Fisheries and Marine and Recreational Vehicles.

Stokowski said one alternative that has been discussed in the past would be for the town to take over control of the access ramp with a lease from the state. Fees could then be charged to pay for a caretaker. "The state led us to believe last year it would like to enter into a lease," he said. "They would do the heavy maintenance. That would give us legal control."

Cristo said he was not sure the town should get into the boat ramp business and suggested that the matter be looked into further.

Transfer Station

At 7:45 the board met with the Transfer Station Building Committee to discuss the remaining issues to close out the completion of work at the Transfer Station. The sum of $11,053 has been set aside to complete the roadway paving, painting, and clean up around the station.

Chase said an occupancy permit can be acquired since the town has received a variance from the state for the installation of an incineration toilet.

Board of Health Chairman James Dwinell said it will only take a couple of weeks to install an incineration toilet. The price range would be $1,000-$2,000. On a joint vote of both the building committee and the selectmen, the purchase of an incineration toilet was approved.

The board and committee then reviewed other items that need to be completed.

- The item pertaining to weather blocking of the building was dropped since it was not recommneded by the steel building contractor.
- Bids will be sought for the painting, with the lowest bid to be accepted.
- Rip-rap will be purchased and put in place by the Highway Department.
- Lines will be painted at the door areas for the public to back up in an orderly fashion.
- The board and the committee voted unanimously to allow up to $2,000, with the lowest price accepted, for a new gate and fence at the entrance.
- A small refrigerator for employees will be purchased.

Cristo said SEA, consultants on the building, maintain that monies are due them for work beyond the contract price. Chase noted that SEA at one time made a claim for $11,000. Committee member Peter Boria said that last summer the figure was $16,000. "Now it's $11,000; just what do we owe them?" he asked. His question went unanswered.

Cristo suggested that the board sit back and wait for SEA to come forward.

It was noted that $72,000 could possibly be turned back to the town as money left in balance from the article for building the station.

Cristo asked about the time schedule for completing the capping work by ETL so the roadway can be paved. Jim Dwinell said they should be out in 2-3 weeks. A target date of July 15 was given as a final date to wrap up what needs to be completed.

Cemetery

Cemetery Commissioner Richard Plante was present at the request of Cristo. Cristo said he received a complaint from two women who said there was no water available at a site near the graves they were visiting and preparing for Memorial Day.

Plante expressed concern that the people had not called him directly and noted that his number is in the phone book. He also said he has received only one complaint in the past 18 months, that over rubbish trucks parking in front of the cemetery on Providence Road. Plante said he was aware that there are water problems since three-fourths of the faucets are not working.

He also said that money would have to be used out of the cemetery account to install a new line down the main road to the beginning of St. Brigid's cemetery. According to Plante, costs will have to be assessed for that before lines off of the main line can be even considered. St. Brigid's will also be affected since they tie into the present line. If a new line is put in, it will be St. Brigid's responsibility to make the connection, not the commissioners'. Plante also said an artesian well may be considered.

In reply to a question on expansion, Plante said there are plans to expand North on the right side of the main road. He did note that the Conservation Commission has said that previous permits for that are obsolete. (The section described is located in a floodplain of the Blackstone River). Plante pointed out that the north section of St. Brigid's Cemetery is located closer to the water than the proposed section for expansion. There are 200 double lots left in the cemetery.

Lachance suggested that a meeting be held with the board, the Cemetery Commissioners, and the Conservation Commission. His colleagues concurred.

Bleau commented on the complaint of trucks being parked near the cemetery on Providence Road. He said it was a safety problem for those making a left turn out of Riverlin street onto Providence since the trucks block the field of vision for motorists. He moved for a review and recommendation from the Safety Officer which was approved 4-0.

Water Rights

Highway Surveyor Joe Chase rerported that no funds are availabe in the sign account for "No Right Turn on Red" signs for the downtwon intersection. The board decided to wait until July 1, FY '90.

Chase said that the water rights for Singletary now held by R.H. White should be bought for $1.00 to guarantee the town's safety. Cristo suggested that a check be made with White on the possibility of their putting in a spillway at Singletary before the town would take over those water rights. He asked Earl Chase if he had checked with Town Counsel on liability. Chase said there could be a problem if there was destruction of wildlife.

In relation to Dorothy Pond, Joe Chase said he was seeking a "hold harmless clause" to fix the broken gate that regulates the water. The gate is owned by Buck Bros. Lachance asked why the town was spending money on something it doesn't own. "Is it a question of public safety," he asked. Chase said it was and could affect property all the way down to Grafton Street if the dam lets go.

The board suggested that Earl Chase and Joe Chase meet with Buck Bros. to discuss the water rights. If the meeting is not successful, a letter will be sent to Buck Bros. indicating they will have to spend the money to repair the faulty gate, not the town.

Joe Chase said someone has lifted the boards at the gatehouse on Ramshorn and shimmied them with bricks. He said he thought he knew who was doing it but couldn't offer any proof at this time.

Joe Chase then reported that a check with local gas station owners indicated they are not interested in supplying gasoline for town equipment. He also said that the town should have its own supply in case of emergencies. Earl Chase noted that the tanks presently underground have to be taken out eventually anyway. Joe Chase said the payback will take four years and the public safety will be maintained if the town retains control of its own gas storage.

The board approved Joe Chase's recommendation that R.H. White be required to overlay the whole road on Providence Street and install lateral lines for each private lot along 122A in Millbury when it lays a water line to the Wilkinsonville Water District in Sutton. He said the permit issued last year has lapsed and White will have to come in for another permit. Chase noted that only Sutton will benefit greatly from the extension since the water will be for the new development at Pleasant Valley and the proposed power plant.

In closing, Joe Chase said the sewerage commission's five year plan for the expansion of the Waste Water Treatment Plant may include the taking of land behind the highway department barn for drying beds. He said that would leave the highway department in a position of not having enough outdoor space to store equipment. Cristo suggested that the sewer commissioners meet with the board and air out the proposal.

Miscelleneous

In other matters,

- the board appointed Robert Brainard to the Capital Budget Committee.
- A public hearing on a reduction in bus service to the town will be held on June 12 at 8:00 p.m. in the selectmen's room.
- The Center School roof has not been repaired as yet.
- The water test request for Ramshorn submitted by Lachance was held for estimates from other testing companies. Chase said an estimate received was from $7,000 to $10,000, including sampling and lab testing.

Fireworks

Lachance read a copy of a letter from Fire Chief Tom Nault to Lions Club President William Kane concerning the club's request for permits for fireworks on June 30 and July 3. Nault approved a permit for the night of July 3 with a raindate of July 4.

With respect to the 30th, the letter read, "An approval for the night of June 30 will not be granted unless the Board of Selectmen submit in writing that the Town of Millbury, and not the Millbury Fire Department nor any of the appointed officials of the Millbury Fire Department, will assume the responsibility and liability for the events of that evening.

Twenty-Five Attend Task Force Meeting

By Edward J. Cooney

SUTTON - Nine of 17 members of the Sutton Power Plant Task Force were present for their May 30 meeting. The meeting was chaired by Carl Licopoli. Approximately 25 residents were also present.

Licopoli began by reporting that representatives of J. Makowski of Boston, the company which has proposed the construction of a power plant at the intersection of Rte. 146 and Central Turnpike, would not be present for tonight's meeting. He said many of the questions raised by members of the task force would be answered next week when Makowski is present.

A question was raised on how far the Wilkinsonville Water District has gone in securing a second well for the power plant. Licopoli said as far as he knew no action had been taken.

It was noted by a member of the audience that at the Millbury Selectmen's meeting on Tuesday night, the Highway Surveyor advised the board that Mass. American Water Company in Millbury and the Wilkinsonville Water District plan to lay a water line down Rte. 122A into the Wilkinsonville area.

Licopoli then said, "I think as I remember talking to Bernie (Chase) and other commissioners the other night that they had some concerns that there was only one water tank in town. In case of an emergency there was only one source if the tank would break down. They would have no other source of water. They are trying to work something out for their own benefit and not for this," he said.

Licopoli then asked to correct the minutes of May 23 that showed Makowski asking to be present this evening. "We asked them to be here," Licopoli said, "so we could determine our time schedule on how quickly we would have to act. There are some regulations we can enact without a town meeting. Especially in your special permitting process. There is a long range problem we will have where there would be a town meeting process in regards to some zoning changes as to what you're going to permit and how you are going to do it; where you're going to allow or where you're not going to allow it; and how big a unit you're going to allow or if you're going to restrict the size of the unit. Some other things we thought about was on site water. They would have to have adequate supplies of water. There are also things such as buffer zones in residential areas and where is it proper to put such a thing. The immediate problem at hand right now," he said, "is what do we want to do with this site right now and what regulations do we want." He said a representative from the Central Mass. Regional Planning Commission has a copy of Sutton's bylaws and will get back to the task force to see what the town can or cannot do and where the bylaws should be strengthened with respect to power plants.

A question was raised by an audience member who expressed concern with a town by law that says only a government agency or a nonprofit group can put up a power plant in a residential area. The Task Force was asked what reason Makowski gave for proposing a power plant even though they are not a government or non-profit agency.

"They haven't given any," Licopoli replied. "We can ask that next week."

"How can they be allowed to bend our laws," the speaker asked. Licopoli interrupted the speaker saying, "If you are going to debate, if you are going to challenge them, go ahead and challenge them." He also said that he didn't think the question had ever been asked of Makowski.

A member of the audience said the question was asked but a reply was not given.

"This Task Force is not going to become a good guy or a bad guy, okay?" Licopoli said. "We are not going to answer legal questions. I am not a lawyer. This task force is just going to look at the basic questions about the power plant and the issues we have at hand. We are going to look at water, air, noise, safety and what regulations we are going to put into it. To answer that question, I can't do it, neither can this Task Force."

Licopoli was asked how the answers could be obtained.

"I have a few gentlemen on this force who are very qualified," he replied. He then remarked that Makowski has only looked at a piece of property. "Once they make the permit application," Licopoli said, "we can go ahead and let them do it or as a group get up and challenge it. If they are not going to make the permit application they will not answer you. They don't have to. I can't answer your question. I could ask them 100 times. They are not going to give you a straight answer anyhow."

With respect to noise and environmental concerns, Licopoli said that Makowski will have to go through rigorous permitting processes with the state.

S.T.O.P. (Sutton Taxpayers Opposed to Power Plants) member Jane Kerins asked whether Makowski's background had been checked to see if any violations are on file for any of their other facilities. She also asked for information on Makowski's financial backers. She was told that the task force has asked financial questions and that Makowski has not come back with any answers other than that they are borrowing money from a bank.

After some additional discussion, Licopoli asked for approval of the May 23 minutes. They were accepted as corrected.

The minutes of May 23 show no action taken by the Task Force. There were no motions made or votes recorded in the minutes. A review of the minutes from the inception of the Task Force also shows no motions or recorded votes in any of the minutes.

Licopoli asked if the question of uninterruptable gas service (to the proposed plant) was adequately addressed at the May 16th meeting. Kerins said the question should be pursued as she had information from a gas engineer indicating that an uninterruptable gas contract would be possible, similar to plants in Bellingham and Milford.

Task Force member Jack Connor said that the task force should not tell Makowski how to run their internal business.

Kerins argued that since the plant would sit on top of a gas line it should be easy to acquire a gas contract and possibly it would eliminate the opposition in town to the use of oil.

Licopoli said it might be difficult to offer a restriction like that since it could apply to all residents in town using oil fired heating. He did say that he would include that in the questions to be asked of Makowski.

Town Engineer Richard Wharton then asked that the May 16th minutes be amended further to include a copy of a memo from him to the Task Force.

Task Force member Jane Murdock suggested that any visit to other power plants sites include a visit with assessors, town officials, and real estate people.

A member of the audience suggested that people living in the area of the sites also be interviewed.

Another member of the audience said the effects of the town meeting vote can already be seen in his neighborhood as four homes have gone up for sale.

Kerins suggested that noise levels be measured at night as well as during the day. She also noted that safeguards should be put in at place at the beginning of construction.

Licopoli said Makowski has hired an acoustical company to set standards and said that question could be asked of them before the next meeting.

Wharton raised a question pertaining to the requirements for daily water usage of the power plant at 100,000 gallons per day. He said another well would be needed in the Wilkinsonville Water District.

Licopoli said the water district would have to deal with the state DPU over that issue.

Wharton said that if you talk about wells and talk about getting water from Wilkinsonville, you're talking about two different issues. He also said the water district will be

Beacon Hill Roll Call

This week's Beacon Hill Roll Call records the votes of Senator John Houston and Representatives Richard Moore and Paul Kollios for the week of May 28-June 2.

THE SENATE

ETHICS (S 1684) - Senate 26-7, refused to discharge the Rules Committee from further consideration of an order directing the Senate Ethics Committee to investigate a violation of a Senate rule by the Rules Committee. Supporters said the Rules Committee has failed to discharge an order requiring Senate debate on the tax hike and budget be open to TV and radio broadcasts. They argued the committee is required to discharge the TV and radio order within four days and is in violation. Opponents offered no arguments. Houston voted against the discharge.

THE HOUSE

TAX HIKE (H 5858) - House 157-0 rejected the Senate version of a $1.6 billion tax package. Both the House and Senate version raise the gas tax. The Senate version extends the sales tax to hundreds of previously exempt services while the House version hikes the income tax. Both Moore and Kollios voted against the Senate version.

BUDGET PACKAGE (H 5700) - House 84-73 gave near final approval and sent to the Senate a $13.3 billion fiscal 1991 budget. Supporters said the package is a reasonable and fiscally responsible one which funds essential programs and services. Opponents said the package is loaded with waste and patronage and noted it is dependent on a $1 billion plus tax hike. Moore voted against the package; Kollios voted in favor of the package.

LOCAL AID (H 5881) - House 145-0 approved resolutions urging the Governor to release the $210 million in local aid he has withheld. Moore and Kollios voted for the resolutions.

MBTA (H 5700) - House 91-52 rejected an amendment reducing funding for the MBTA from $234 million to $217 million. Amendment supporters said this would save $17 million and still give the MBTA a 10% increase. Opponents said this cut will adversely affect service for an increasing number of riders. Moore and Kollios voted for the reduction.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL (H 5700) - House 104-42 rejected an amendment reducing the salary of each Governor's Councilor from $10,400 to $4000. Amendment supporters aid a $4000 salary is sufficient for this part time job on a useless, outdated council. Opponents said a $4000 salary is insufficient and noted the Council is useful and approves judicial appointments and pardons. Moore and Kollios voted for the reduction.

BOARD OF REGENTS (H 5700) - House 80-74 approved an amendment abolishing the Board of Regents of Higher Education in March, 1991. The amendment also directs a special commission to file legislation by December 1990 transferring the board's powers and duties to a successor group. Amendment supporters said this will save $3 million and replace this unaccountable, unresponsive board. Some opponents defended the board while others said this major policy change is unfairly being rushed into a budget without a public hearing. Moore and Kollios voted against abolishing the board.

POVERTY (H 5700) - House 92-60 approved an amendment providing $75,000 for a program of services to alleviate poverty in local communities. Amendment supporters said this funding is necessary for this important work. Opponents asked for more details and questioned why Ways and Means did not include this item in the budget. Moore voted against the $75,000, Kollios voted for it.

REGISTRY (H 5700) - House 113-15 rejected an amendment allowing the Registry of Motor Vehicles to spend up to $3 million in fee revenues for maintaining existing branch offices and safety programs. Amendment supporters said this would ensure money from Registry fee hikes is used to keep local offices open across the state. Opponents said the state cannot afford the $3 million and noted the Registrar has not asked for this money. Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

TREASURER (H 5700) - House 76-75 refused to reconsider prior approval of an amendment hiking funding for the State Treasurer's Office from $7 million to $8.7 million. Reconsideration supporters said this $1.7 million was cut two weeks ago and then restored at 2:00 a.m. without debate on a voice vote. Reconsideration opponents said the money was restored in the open and noted there was no objection from the members present. Moore voted against the $1.7 million hike; Kollios voted for the hike.

NEW BRAINTREE (H 5700) - House 87-65 approved an amendment prohibiting any further spending on the medium security prison in New Braintree until January 1991. Amendment supporters said there are many unanswered questions surrounding the prison and noted this would give a new governor a chance to deal with the situation and decide whether the prison will hurt the small town. Opponents said the state needs prison space and claimed the procedure for site selection and construction has followed regulations. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

STOP DEBATE (H 5700) - At 5:00 p.m., the House 87-64 approved a motion to end budget debate by midnight. Supporters said three weeks of debate is sufficient and argued debate could go on endlessly and jeopardize final passage of a budget by the end of the fiscal year. Opponents said shutting off debate is undemocratic and noted hundreds of amendments are still pending. Moore voted to end the debate; Kollios voted against ending it.

CENTRAL ARTERY (H 5700) - House 84-65 rejected an amendment prohibiting spending of state money for the one mile central artery depression from High Street to Causeway Street in Boston until the Secretary of Transportation presents a financing plan and obtains approval of the governor and legislature. Amendment supporters said this ill-conceived project will cost billions and will adversely affect the quality of life all over the city. Opponents said the amendment will stop this worthwhile project and noted each delay costs more money. Both Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

Another Point of View

USE 'EM OR LOSE 'EM

By Lawrence Moore

In the past decade, Sutton has spent most of the year searching for volunteers for boards and commissions. For years, at the back of each annual report a page has been included asking town residents to indicate their willingness to serve. Responses have been few. Our Town elections have rarely fielded candidates beyond incumbents.

This year, at a Selectmen's meeting a few weeks ago, there was an outpouring of volunteers, many with specific experience. Many were uniquely qualified for the post in which they expressed an interest. Some also indicated a willingness to serve in alternate positions.

For some time now, in interviewing candidates, the question has been asked "did any particular issue cause you to develop your interest in serving the town?" On the surface this seems like an innocuous question. However, when candidates decide to run for election, they are not interrogated about their interest in issues. They simply are interested in running. We have rarely had "candidates nights", and even on those nights, issues were subordinated to generalities. For the first time in my short memory, this year's election for Selectman was issue oriented. Whether this was a phenomenon that will be repeated next year is anyone's guess, but I have the feeling that having had a taste of issues, the electorate of Sutton is going to be seeking positions among the candidates.

This year the power plant issue raised the interest of Sutton voters to the level that made them want to be "part of the action". The Town Meeting, certainly the largest in a long time, gave us that answer. Sutton people realize we are approaching a time of change. The power plant is only one issue in our growth and development. But it certainly was the power plant issue that made them realize they had something to offer and that they wanted their opinions and desires to be considered.

Incumbents over the years, whether they were elected or appointed have given valuable service. But as in any election, if the challenger is worthy, he or she is considered. Forget the "issue" issue. Forget "incumbents." Forget the "new volunteers." Re-interview, if necessary, all of the people, both incumbents and volunteers. Show those who volunteer that we have an interest in their experience. Don't brush them off without even a hearing. Make town service appear as important as it really is. It isn't just a job to fill ... it's a job that should take advantage of the tremendous abilities of many of our people. When the best qualified person is found ... choose. If we don't choose the best, the town will be the loser.

If these volunteers are not given proper consideration, I question whether in the future we will ever have the opportunity to make our choices from among such a sterling group of people. How the Selectmen handle these appointments may well become one of the issues in our next election.

This can be a turning point in town service. As far as these volunteers are concerned ... use them or lose them!

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

Thank you merchants and people of Millbury. A couple of Saturdays ago there were several yard sales and auctions right here in town. I know I looked across the street to our neighbors at Millbury Federated Church and thought to myself what friendly competition was all about. We received some lovely things for our auction from our local merchants and the people of Millbury. We not only realized a bit of a profit, but we had a lot of fun as well.

In exchange for a wedding ceremony and some pre-marital counseling, I got a complete tune-up job done on my car. I did have to supply the parts so I went to one of our local stores and told them what I needed, but that I also had a chance to buy elsewhere at a lower price. That didn't seem to faze them at all and they gave me a complete list of what I needed and their price. Well, I found out that it pays to buy locally. I went back to them and told them that they couldn't be beat, and they told me that they knew that.

Any time we need something for our church, our local merchants have always given us the best price on the best products. Their cooperation in all our local affairs should be rewarded by our giving them first preference.

The churches of Millbury should also be your first preference. There is a good variety of types of worship experience available right in your own back yard. Russell Conwell in his famous book, "Acres of Diamonds," tells of a man who went all over the world looking for diamonds only to discover that they were right there in his own back yard. Amen....

He was honored with the Silver Beaver Award in 1973.

In addition to scouting, Aspinwall is also well known for his work in the American Diabetes Association. He served as a member of the national long-term strategic committee, state secretary and a board member of the Massachusetts affiliate of the American Diabetes Association, president of the Worcester Chapter, and a member of the board since 1982. SELECTMEN from Page 4

Further, if the Town does submit such a proposal, the fire works permit for the night of June 30 will be final and no raindate will be included."

Cristo asked if anyone wanted to make a motion to honor the chief's request. No motion was forthcoming.

Board member Gerald Bleau said he did not know exactly what the chief was requesting.

"Basically," Cristo replied, "he is asking us to state what our action is."

"That's not what he is saying there," Bleau said.

"I guess what he is saying," Cristo said, "is that he understands the Police Chief's position and recommendation and that we voted something different. He wants a letter stating we voted in such a manner. If he were to issue a permit," Cristo said, "he is saying there would be some liability on his part because his permit would be based on what we had accomplished and not what the police chief said. He has had no official correspondence that we have taken that action."

Lachance then said, "When, Mr. Chairman, is the Millbury Fire Department a separate entity from the Town of Millbury in the pursuit of damages from a lawsuit?"

"They really aren't," Earl Chase replied.

"The first night the fire Chief was here," Lachance said, "he was the one who raised the question of a safety factor. "He showed up the first night; we've not seen him since. He is leaning on the Police Chief. He raised the issue and I haven't seen him here at all."

"I don't think he is leaning on anybody," Cristo replied. "I think he has concerns of personal liability or liability to the Fire Department if he was to issue a permit that was contrary to the recommendation of the Chief of Police. He just wanted something from the Board of Selectman telling him our position. I told him what our position was," Cristo said. "The fireworks debate has gone on and on. The board took a vote." Cristo said it was now a dead issue.

"It's not a dead issue," Lachance argued. "We appoint the Chief. The Fire Chief is paid well. He comes to the first meeting and I haven't seen him since. I think in the spirit of cooperation he should have been here to talk about it at these meetings instead of writing letters."

"Then what's your pleasure gentlemen," Cristo asked, "do you want to write the Fire Chief a letter or do you want to have him come in two weeks from tonight? What do you want to do? There are more important issues facing the Town of Millbury that the Lions Club and the Independence Day celebration."

Both Cristo and Bleau again said they were unsure what Nault was seeking from the board.

Craig Coppola, Personnel Board Chairman, was in the audience and asked to address the board. "I've been sitting here listening to all of this," he said. "It sounds like the Fire Chief is still backing the Police Chief, saying he wants 32 people (on June 30). The Fire Chief wants you, the board of selectmen who changed that number from 32 to 24 people, to assume responsibility or accountability for anything that might go wrong because of a reduction in staff. I think that's what that letter is asking for."

"All I know is that he said he wants a letter from us stating the action we took," Cristo argued. "Our position is 4-1 on the fireworks and what the townspeople did when they voted to fund the 4th of July celebration at the Town Meeting. I don't care what the press says nor what the Lions Club says. It's up to the Board of Selectmen and the Town Meeting to make those decisions and they were made." (The town meeting voted $5,000 for the July 4th celebration, "subject to a resolution of the safety concerns of the police and fire departments.")

Cristo then said to Chase, "Get back to the Fire Chief and tell him we've sent him a copy of the letter (outlining the procedures to be taken on the nights of the fireworks) and in terms of liability, the Fire Department is not a separate entity in terms of the town's liability. Correct?"

"That's the way I would interpret it," Lachance said.

Cristo said that after this year's celebration the board will sit down and make an evaluation. "I don't want to ever have to deal with this issue on an ongoing basis," he said.

School Committee Request

The School Committee has requested $3500 from an article approved at Town Meeting for $65,000 for the inspection of oil tanks. Chase said the article did not include the school department since it was put on the warrant for the tanks at the municipal garage. "At this point," he said, "I'm not sure if any monies will be available for that."

Compensatory Time

A letter was read from the board's secretary, Debbie Plante, who said this would be her last meeting to take the minutes since she will be using up accrued time for the rest of this fiscal year. She also asked that she be paid on an overtime basis next fiscal year, as are other town employees, instead of being given compensatory time. A letter from the personnel board supported her request. The board voted 3-0-1, abstention by Bernard Plante, to seek a transfer from the Finance Committee to pay Plante an estimated $2300 for the next fiscal year for 46 meetings at three hours per meeting at time and one half.

The meeting adjourned at 10:15 p.m.

benefitting from all this. He then explained that if a deep well was put on site it would go below the well water depth of other wells in the area. Wharton also said that if you go to shallow gravel wells in the aquifer he didn't think there would be a drawdown of the water table that would affect Woodbury Lake.

Questions arose as to how the $50,000 from Makowski to pay bills for independent evaluations of different aspects of the proposal would be handled. One member suggested that an independent relationship be maintained by having the town, not Makowski, pay for the bills out of a fund. The funds would be disbursed through consultation with the board of selectmen if the town meeting approves depositing the money in the general fund.

The meeting adjourned at 9:13.

[It was announced at the June 5 Selectmen's meeting that J. Makowski Co. Inc. plans to withdraw plans to construct the power plant because they have been unable to find a buyer for the power.]

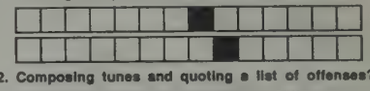
What's the Difference?

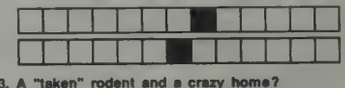
By Pat O'Leary & Larry Ham

HOW TO PLAY: The answers to the two clues rhyme and the beginning consonant sounds are switched. For example: What's the difference between a neckwear fastener and a metal pan for baked desserts? One is a TIE PIN and the other is a PIE TIN. Sound counts, not spelling.

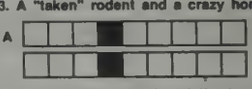
1. Posting timepieces and ascending boulders?



2. Composing tunes and quoting a list of offenses?



3. A "taken" rodent and a crazy home?



4. The singer's award and the tree surgeon's exclamations?

ANSWERS: 1. Rhyming clocks and climbing rocks. 2. Writing songs and biting wrongs. 3. A hat mouse and a mad house. The crooner's prize and the pruner's cries.

Every year the Millbury Public Library generates a recommended reading list for parents and their children to use in finding good summer reading. This year, we are using the annual American Library Association Children's Book Committee's "Notable Children's Books" list as the basis of our list.

Each year this committee culls through the latest in children's literature to find books to recommend to children from preschool to age 14. While recommendations are based on literary merit, they are also based ont he reading interests of children and young adults.

With the help of copying services of the Central Massachusetts Regional Library System and the Millbury School Department, the library will provide each Millbury student with an expanded version of the list of books below. Look for this during the last week of the school year.

The world according to us.

It's a small place, our world.

It's made up of nearby communities and farms and neighbors we know by name.

Our headquarters are here. All our business is here.

And our interests and loyalties are here.

We're an independent community bank — and we have one purpose: to take care of our small world.

Your deposits with us are invested locally — in loans to your neighbors and communities. They're not invested somewhere else — for somebody else's benefit.

This area is our world, and you and your neighbors are the only people in it.

That makes us unworldly, doesn't it?

You bet it does.

Disaster Drill Held in Sutton

Rescuers remove students "trapped" inside the bus during the mock disaster.

SUTTON - The shrill sound of ambulance, rescue squad, and fire engine sirens filled the air on Saturday morning as Worcester Himmer Ambulance, in cooperation with Sutton Rescue Squad and the Northbridge Fire Deparemnt conducted a medium scale disaster drill.

At 9:00 a.m., a "call" was received reporting a school bus accident on Lackey Dam Road in Sutton. The "accident" was actually a bus placed on its side with 50 "patients" requiring treatment and transportation to hospitals. Emergency Care Providers from Millbury, Sutton, and surrounding communities also responded to provide care and transportation. The patients were transported to a mock hospital at the Himmer Ambulance station on River Street in Millbury.

Robert E. Nadolski, NREMT-Paramedic Drill Coordinator, said the purpose of the drill was to prepare the area for the possibility of a real disaster, which would require the cooperation of the various resources available.

Nick Bousquet of Sutton was one of the accident's "victims."
